
me shooting my deer with my bow/ero mount part 2

Posted by Bucko - 2008/12/24 22:55

this year I shot a buck with my micro madness 2 browning bow.

I have 8 achers behind my house and only two treestands.It was right around the time change the day of.I woke up late It was just getting lite out and I had to hurry to get to my stand. I got back to my stand and got up it just in time.I was watching to my right for deer to come out of the limestone company in to my woods because the past weekend three bucks came from there chaceing does.then I heard a noise to my left and a little buck was walking my way.he licked the end of a top tree that had beeb cut down then started to walk around It and I drew my bow back. the next thang I knew I had my ten yard pin on him right on his hart and I let the arrow fligh.I hit him in the hart and he didnt go 30 yards.I found him and figuard out that he was a six point that was the most funest thang that happend to me this year!:woohoo:
:woohoo:

eropean mount

well everyone i got part two of me shooting my deer with my bow this year.there is a picture on page 4 of my eropean mount i got of the six point i shot!! I have the deer head hanging in my room with my four point that i got the same mount of and my turkey tails just thought i would share this with everyone on bowcast:woohoo:

That's for sure! Next thing you know, you'll have a small archery shop in your home, archery catalogs all over the house, etc. Sound familiar??? :)

I love this guy!

The darned "byte police" have blocked the pic here at work. Have to wait till I get home to see. Kudos to you DeRyder!
