On this week's episode of BowCast, Anthony runs through the remainder of the 46Rail product line which includes a number of key accessories. Through the BowCast banter, Aneal and Anthony discuss a number of key outdoor clothing concepts like, "What's more important - Waterproof clothing or quiet clothing?" and "How should one best layer clothing?".

Still have questions? How about these:

When will 46Rail products first be available? What camo patterns will the clothing be available in? Are you one of the lucky individuals looking to use the 40% off you earned by filling out the 46 Rail survey late last year?

Come inside as all the details related to this new product line begin to "Rail" together.
